

Clinician Guide for Woebot for Adults

How to Introduce & Educate Patients

Background

When a patient meets the Woebot for Adults Enrollment Criteria (see below), the provider will proceed to educate the patient about Woebot and its benefits. If the patient is agreeable to using the Woebot application after educating them, the Physician will place a “Woebot Referral” order in Xealth.

Providers who identify eligible patients will send a telephone encounter to one of the pilot physicians to place the “Woebot Referral” order in Xealth on their behalf.

Talking points

- ChristianaCare is piloting a new mobile application called Woebot for Adults. This app can help patients develop skills to live better with symptoms of depression and anxiety, and is available 24/7, at no additional cost.
- The Woebot app will proactively check-in to see how you're feeling on a cadence you define.
- In addition to the evidence-based tools, there is also mood tracking and gratitude journaling.
- What you say to Woebot is private and secure. Transcripts of conversation are not shared outside of what is required legally and to provide the service.
